How did you hear about this class?

Why are you seeking your ham radio license?

Special dietary, learning, access or other accommodations requested:
--

You need to buy an ARRL Ham Radio License Manual, you can find them at these two places for sure:

ARRL National Book Store: <http://tinyurl.com/arrlbook1> (the first book in the list)

Radio City, Mounds View, MN: <http://tinyurl.com/arrlradiocity> (or get it local at the store if you are in the area)

There are other instructional manuals out there. However, the most current is the first edition, third printing, ISBN: 0-87259-963-9) for use beginning July 1, 2006. The actual questions from the exam are in the back of this book. The power point presentations and other teaching materials are geared from this book specifically. Please read through the manual before the class and mark it up with questions we answer for you in the class.

Mail this form and a check for $30 per person made out to SCVRA: John Kruk, N9UPC
